LITIGATION ARBITRATION & MEDIATION

With a team of seasoned litigators, Harrington, Ocko & Monk, LLP, offers the experience and judgment needed to achieve optimal results in numerous areas of complex litigation. Our clients comprise businesses in many industries, including: major construction companies, property owners and developers, marketing and new media businesses, professional service firms, top insurance companies, and many other sophisticated businesses and individuals.

At Harrington, Ocko & Monk, LLP, we are first and foremost trial lawyers. We are also strategic thinkers who offer common sense with uncommon insight. When litigation ensues, we understand what is at stake for our clients. We carefully consider the strategy for each case, reviewing all options and potential outcomes to identify the best and most cost-effective path to resolution.

Harrington, Ocko & Monk LLP's main objective is to achieve the best results for our clients while managing the costs and duration of a lawsuit. While our Firm enjoys a stellar record in the courtroom, litigation can become costly and time-consuming, so even a win at trial may not be the most advantageous resolution of a particular dispute.

We offer our clients a wide range of Alternative Dispute Resolution ("ADR") mechanisms to optimize case outcomes. The Firm's litigation attorneys are all highly experienced in handling disputes before various private arbitration and mediation forums. Our reputation for thorough preparation and aggressive advocacy skills at trial are a great asset in obtaining a favorable resolution consistent with our client's goals through ADR. In cases where mediation is utilized, clients can be directly involved in the process and preserve the confidentiality of the resolution of the dispute.
