

SCOTT MAUTNER

Scott Mautner is counsel to the firm. Mr. Mautner's practice focuses on complex corporate and real estate transactions, including mergers & acquisitions, start-up and traditional debt and equity financings, and acquisitions, sales, and financing of real estate. He has represented companies at all stages of their life cycle, from start-up to exit, and regularly acts as outside general counsel to start-up and mid-market companies. Finally, Mr. Mautner represents clients on technology, media and telecom matters.

Earlier in his career, Mr. Mautner served as the General Counsel and part of senior management for several technology, media and telecom companies for well over a decade. His senior management experience provides Mr. Mautner with unique insight into both business and legal issues facing commercial clients. As a result, he regularly counsels his current clients on corporate governance and risk management, regulatory compliance, human resources and employment, commercial agreements, and litigation.

Mr. Mautner's General Counsel experience also includes consummating equity financing transactions (including a Series B Preferred Stock round of $45 million); financing and restructuring debt in excess of $140 million; closing strategic acquisitions of competitors, including divisions of Global Crossing and Radianz; and closing the sale of three of the companies for which he worked.

Prior to joining Harrington Ocko & Monk, Mr. Mautner founded his own law firm and then served as a Partner at another law firm.
